1 Thanks for all your help and support, Sunah! I hope you enjoy what is left of the summer, but I fear you will be busy marking! Cheers

2 Professor Sunah was very friendly and approachable. I believe the course would benefit from a facelift (e.g., include a section with full assignment descriptions that is accessible from main interface, make course schedule accessible from main interface). The work load is a little heavy and the reading schedule isn't very balanced (e.g., some weeks there are 30 pages to read and some weeks there are 200 plus pages of reading). I would recommend making the Methodological Critique an individual only assignment and giving the option of completing the Research Proposal as a group assignment. As an individual assignment, I feel the Research Proposal should be worth more than 35%. It is a much bigger task than the Methodological Critique (25%) and Article Critique (15%).

3 I found it difficult to enter into the final assignment with only having 20% of my grade at that point.
I found the weekly tasks required so much time to complete that it left little time for discussion.
One group project might have been helpful to create more connections between classmates.
I like how the instructor added to some of the discussion threads.
The course interface needs to be better organized for example there are two places that say Assignments but neither one is where you will find the rubrics for the assignments.

4 I felt that there were a lot of problems with the actual design of this course (it felt like a face-to-face research methodology that had just been transposed to an online medium without considering the affordances that an online program provides); however, I felt that the instructor was extremely positive, supportive and considerate of her students.

5 Dr. Sunah is a fantastic instructor! I really liked how she was always visible through discussions and email. She responded to all my questions in a timely manner and was extremely helpful when I needed clarification. I really enjoyed taking this course with her :)
